MEMBER OF THE SECTION FOR THE HISTORICAL STUDY OF RELIGIONS.

Prof. L. C. Stewardson, Lehigh University, South Bethlehem, Pa.

The Corresponding Secretary, Professor Hopkins, in reporting the correspondence of the year, said that letters had in due course been received from those elected to membership at the last meeting, all of whom had accepted. The Government of India (Home Office), the Berlin Oriental Seminar, and the Zeitschrift für alttestamentliche Wissenschaft (Giessen) had been put upon the list of exchanges, and letters acknowledging this courtesy had been duly received. The supplement to the Weber MS. published by Dr. Hoernle had been subscribed for, as a necessary addition to the original subscription of the Society. In accordance with the instructions given at the last annual meeting, the Secretary forwarded to the Senate and the House copies of the resolutions passed by the Society respecting the extension of the work of the Bureau of American Ethnology (as reported vol. xxi, pp. 199, 201). The Secretary's report continued as follows : Two letters were received in the course of the year from persons who, though not members of the Society, requested the privilege of publishing essays in the Journal of the Society. Your Secretary considered this to be without precedent and inadvisable as a precedent and in each case refused the request till he should be instructed to the contrary by the Society. In the meantime both essays have been published elsewhere and only the general principle remains as perhaps worthy of being discussed in view of possible future cases of the same sort. This matter is mentioned here rather than in the editorial report, since the application came in each case to the Secretary.

In regard to the subsidy voted for the Oriental Bibliography, and the suggestion made thereafter that several copies should be distributed here as advertisement, this offer was accepted on the part of the Bibliography with thanks for the subvention, and accordingly fifty copies of the last number were sent, received, and distributed by the Secretary.

In July of last year your Secretary received from the Secretary of the Philological Association a copy of a vote passed by that Association and a request that in response to this vote a member of the Society should be appointed to serve on a Committee to undertake the preparation of a philological index to the literature of the last twenty-five years of this [last] century, the committee to consist of one member of each of the Societies represented at the December meeting in Philadelphia. In due course Professor Oertel was requested to serve as the Society's representative and he accepted the appointment.

From the University of Glasgow the Society has received an invitation to send delegates to the celebration of the University's four hundred and fiftieth anniversary, to be held in June of this year, and a reply is requested at an early date.

The Secretary has also among other letters received some from India which may interest the Society. One is from Mr. Gopal Shastri of Ahmedâbâd and the others are from Professor Jackson, who is now travelling in India.

[The Secretary then read Mr. Shastri's letter. Prof. Jackson's letters are published in this volume of the Journal.]

The report of the Treasurer, Prof. F. W. Williams, had been duly audited and was as follows :

The Treasurer in handing in his report for the year 1900 calls attention to the fact that the expenses during this period do not cover the cost of publishing any part of the Society's Journal. The actual expenditures for the year amount therefore to only $324.10, the other items in the debit column being the temporary deposit of $1,000 in two New Haven Savings Banks, and the purchase of nine additional shares of the State National Bank stock of Boston at 108 as a permanent investment. This stock is written down in the Statement of Funds at 110 for the seventeen shares owned by the Society, being approximately its present market value. The receipts from annual dues are $329 greater than during the preceding year, while the sales of the Society's Journal brought about $70 less. There has been no life member added during the year.

The invitation from the University of Glasgow to the American Oriental Society to be represented by delegates at the approaching celebration of the four hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University was referred to the Directors.

The following report of the Librarian, Mr. Van Name, was read by Professor Hopkins:

The additions to the library of the Society by gift and exchange during the past year have been 79 volumes, 90 parts of volumes and 161 pamphlets; mostly dissertations.

From the Imperial Academy of Sciences of St. Petersburg we have received, in addition to the current volumes of the Memoirs and Bulletin of the Academy, thirteen other publications; and from the Royal Institute of Dutch India the last two series, seventeen volumes, of Bijdragen tot de Taal-, Land-, en Volkenkunde van Nederlandsch Indië.

The number of titles on the accession list is now 5171, and of manuscripts, the same as last year, 188.

The report of the Editors of the Journal was presented by Professor Hopkins, as follows:

As stated in an editorial note appended to the Second Part of Volume xxi, this Part was published before the appearance of the First Part, which is still in the hands of the printer. There seemed to be no reason for delaying the Second Part on this account, as the First Part is merely an Index. Professor Moore, the former editor of the Journal, had undertaken the First Part before the appointment of the present board of editors, and he has kindly promised to complete it. The Second Part might have been ready in December, but as there was a special Meeting at Philadelphia in that month it seemed wiser to include in the volume the report of that Meeting, together with such papers as were read there and were ready for immediate publication. The Second Part was accordingly issued in January with these additions. Professor Torrey had finished the Semitic part of the volume before he left, for which reason all the Semitic articles were grouped together. The question of Avestan transcription came up in the course of this publication and had to be decided, subject to the ratification of the Society. A full explanation of the difficulty and its solution is given in the Editorial Note, vol. xxi, p. 191. The solution adopted was, in a word, to allow two systems previously employed by two writers in two different sets of articles to be used in the continuation of these articles as published in this volume of the Journal, but to request that future articles should be written according to one system, that, namely, adopted by almost all Avestan scholars. The cost of making the requisite matrices was found to be slight. The editor for the Aryan side is of the opinion that this is a proper opportunity to raise the question whether it would not be well for this Journal to modify in one particular its Sanskrit transcription. To all writers on linguistic subjects the character \acute{c} used in Avestan is much more convenient than ζ for the palatal sibilant. Moreover, in adopting this change the American Oriental Society would come out of its isolated position and range itself with other Oriental Societies, all of which employ the diacritical mark rather than the cedilla.

In conclusion the same editor begs leave to iterate the farewell remark of the former editor, Professor Moore, to the effect that if the contributors to the Journal expect prompt publication they must be prompt in supplying material and in correcting proof. To this, perhaps not too burdensome request, as a result of a double experience in serving as Corresponding Secretary as well as Editor, he would add the warning that members at times become impatient and say they must resign from a Society which fails to issue its publications on time; a fact the gravity of which is lessened only by the circumstance that those who are most exigent in this regard are usually those who have not paid their bills for a long time. But even without this reminder it is obviously difficult to issue a volume in July when manuscripts are not ready for publication till August or September.

The following communications were then presented:

Mr. Blake, The word $\aleph\aleph\aleph$ in the Siloam inscription.

Dr. Ewing, The Hindu conception of the functions of breath (read in abstract by Professor Bloomfield).
